INTER-CLASS MEET ON DRIVING TRACK

Postponed From Thursday,
Races Were Run Off
Yesterday Afternoon.

Sophomores Won the Silver
Trophy Cup With 63 Points
—Next Highest Class Was
Juniors, With But 27 Points.

After being postponed from Thursday afternoon the Inter-Class track meet of the students of Bridgeton High School was held at the Bridgeton Driving Association's track yesterday afternoon.

Although late in the afternoon rain threatened, the day was an ideal one for this kind of sport and a fairly large audience filled the big grandstand, and plenty of school and class spirit was shown from the stand.

The meet was a most pronounced success both from attendance and the results of the contests as pulled off, some excellent times being registered.

A small fee had been charged at the gate which provided a number of pretty prizes, and a small balance which will be placed to the credit of the athletic association of the school.

The Sophomore Class proved the strongest in the number of points won, making a total of sixty-three points. Second honors were awarded the Junior Class with twenty-seven points, third to the Seniors with eighteen points and fourth to the Freshman Class, with three points. A large silver trophy cup was the class prize, which was presented to the Sophomores, the cup to be awarded each year to the class making the highest number of points.

Four individual prizes had been provided, the winners to be decided on the point system. John Archer of the class of 1913, proved to be the best all-around athlete of the day, taking first place in the high jump, shot-puts and pole vault and second place in the broad jump. For his excellent work, which gave him 18 points, he was awarded a beautiful silver trophy cup.

Winfield Fisher, class of 1914, with 16 points took second prize, a pair of gold cuff links. He finished first in the 100-yard dash and broad jump, second in pole vault, third in the high jump and fourth in the shot-put.

Arthur Garrison, class of 1914, received a gold scarf pin as the winner of third honors. Notwithstanding his recent ill-health he came in first in the half-mile run and second in the quarter-mile and mile runs. His number of points was 11.

Fourth prize, also gold scarf pin, was won by Kelso Elwell, class of 1914. He succeeded in landing first place in the two events in which he was entered, the 440-yard dash and the one-mile run.

THIRTY ONE PUPILS WERE GRADUATED

Exercises of Monroe Street Grammar School at Wesley Memorial Church.

Beautiful Decorations of Flags, Class Colors and Flowers—Highly Interesting Exercises and Award of Prizes.

A class of thirty-one members was graduated from Monroe Street School, the exercises being held last evening in Wesley Memorial M. E. Church. Seldom, if ever, has the church looked prettier than it did for this happy and interesting occasion. There were a number of American flags artistically arranged and with these blended nicely the class colors of red and white. The class colors were further carried out in the profusion of flowers, there being the red of the Cimmon Ramblers and the white of the daisies. The entire effect was very pleasing.

Under the direction of Mrs. Clara T. Mulford, the principal, the graduates and pupils of the lower grades presented a highly interesting program which was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience present.

Order of Exercises.

Following is the order of exercises:

March—Orchestra.
Processional.
Anthem (three parts)—Sing Unto God, graduates.
Invocation—Rev. William Dishrow.
Nineteenth Psalm—graduates.
Chorus—Greetings, Sixth grade.
Recitation—Unwares, Hazel Tullis.
Chorus—Spring Song, graduates.
Selection—Sheridan's Ride, Sixth grade.
Chorus—Lullaby, Fifth grade.
Recitation—Paul Revere's Ride, Carolyn Poole.
Duet—'I'd Rather do Anything, Joe George, Nina Cossaboon.
Piano Solo—Listen to the Mocking Bird, Kathryn Gosa.
Selection—The Chambered Nautilus, Seventh grade.
Chorus—The Beautiful World, graduates.
Recitation—The Color Guard, Carolyn Miller.
Flag Drill—Third grade.
Chorus—The Union Jack, Seventh grade and graduates.
Selection—Sail On, graduates.
Piano Solo—Sweet Bye and Bye, Elizabeth Johnson.
Three Part Song—Brook's Slumber Song, graduates.
Address—John S. Ware.
Presentation of Diplomas—Dr. John Moore.
Presentation of Prizes—John S. Ware.
Closing Address—Laura Corey.
Class Song—Graduates.
Benediction.
Orchestra.

Mrs. Mulford led the choruses and the young people sang splendidly. Mrs. Ada Ware, her daughter, acted as accompanist. Indeed the pupils all took their parts so well that Dr. Moore enthusiastically declared it to be the best commencement of the year. He said he was thrilled by what he saw and heard.

In his address Mr. Ware gave more commendation of the same kind. His address to the graduates was especially appropriate and inspiring.

There were two surprise features. Clara Dishrow, in behalf of the class, presented Mrs. Mulford with a bouquet of fragrant carnations in the class colors of red and white. Heber Ashmead, also in behalf of the class, presented the school with a large pennant with the M. E. S. for Monroe Grammar School, this being in red and white.

Though very much surprised Mrs. Mulford gracefully accepted both gifts with appropriate responses.

The Graduates.

The graduates who received their Grammar School diplomas were: Ethel Gaskill, Mary Hizer, Alice Hitzer, Elizabeth Johnson, Helen Woodlin, Hazel Fox, Lizzie George, Helen McIntyre, Anna Burton, Mina Ireland, Clara Dishrow, Carolyn Miller, Laura Corey, Estella Strang, Marie Sheehan, Hazel Tullis, Thelma Sharp, Kathryn Gosa, Margaret Debuscheck, Edna Fox.

Olga Assink, Leo Ehrler, Mahlon Elwell, Charles Poole, Heber Ashmead, Rodney Gibson, Albert Johnson, Everett Lamb, Edgar Muta, Frank Peterson, William Seull.

The Prizes.

Anna Burton won the Eighth grade spelling prize of $5 offered by C. W. Shoemaker. She had the remarkable average of 95% in spelling for the entire school year. She is a most promising student and a delight to teachers for her deportment average was 100, she having been perfect each of the ten school months.

The Seventh grade prizes of fountain pens for penmanship, also offered by C. W. Shoemaker, were awarded as follows:

For best writing, Hattie Fowler, for most improvement in writing, Esther Burch.

The courtesy of Wesley Church and its pastor, in setting their prayer meeting at another time so the exercises could be held on what seemed the only available evening, was very much appreciated.

MUSICAL COMEDY "THE NEW MINISTER"

Presented By Luther League of St. John's Church.
IN THE PRETTY MAJESTIC THEATRE.

Richly Humorous Old Time Costumes—The Cast of Characters and Musical Numbers.

A capacity house greeted "The New Minister" at the Majestic Theatre last evening as presented by the Luther League of St. John's German Lutheran Church.

This two act musical comedy by W. T. Bingham and Arthur Radcliffe, of Millville, hinges on the selection and arrival of a new minister to a country town church. It is somewhat of a satire upon that class of people who think a new preacher must not only be an angel in a frock coat but must also conform in toto to their personal ideas and preferences.

The time is fifty years ago but some of the satire is still applicable and the comedy contains many humorous bits.

The costumes were old-time affairs or present day grotesque styles and all the players were well made up for their parts. The costumes were richly humorous of themselves.

The plot is slight but adds considerable interest to the lines, the scenes including the meetings of the several societies, choir, etc. and the calls of the parsonages upon the parson to give him "pointers" about people's peculiarities and advice as to how and what to preach.

Cast of Characters.

The cast of characters in the speaking parts was as follows:
Rev. Homer Alexander Brown, The New Minister, Fred Reinhardt.
Professor Topnot, leader of the Choir, Walter Hunt.
Crescendo B. Platt, Harry Stogelman.
Hersieklah F. Sharp, Member of Music Committee, Albert Scheyhing.
Doctor Hoosick, Member Music Committee, Herbert Weber.
Ralph Hunter, a Bartitone in the Choir, Edward McGraw.
Seth Perkins, a Joe, Fred Weber.
Daisy Lovejoy, the New School Teacher, Margaret Kienzle.
Odella Harkin, organizer of the Old Maid's Club, Lena Viola.
Sophie Battering, the Milliner, Uncle Alec, the Old Sexton, J. Gottlieb.
Scheyhing, Augusta Wind, Everybody's Friend, Mrs. Corn Rose.
Mrs. Delancy, President of the Ladies' Aid Society, Minnie Spitznagel.

Musical Number.

The musical numbers were in this order:
Nature's Voices Sing, Prof. Topnot and Choir.
Let Me Sing, (Solo) Daisy.
When I Shovel in the Coal, Sexton and Chorus.
The Music Committee, Song by Music Committee.
A Pretty Little Flower is a Daisy, Daisy and Male Chorus.
The Ladies' Aid, Chorus.
The Kind of a Preacher I Like (Solo) Ralph.
The Old Maid's Lament, Chorus.
Hurrah For the New Minister, Ensemble Chorus.
How do You Think You'll Like the Man, Chorus Ladies' Aid.
What Will the Poor Preacher Do? (Duet song) Daisy, Henrietta, Brown and Sharp.
Who Told the Hell, Sexton and Old Maid Chorus.
Tickets for the Potpie Supper, Chorus Ladies' Aid.
I Haven't Made Up My Mind, Brown and Chorus.
Final Chorus, The New Minister, Finale.

The choruses were by the members of the choir, the Ladies' Aid Society, the Old Maid's Club and the Sewing Circle.

The play was well received, the audience expressing their approval by frequent applause. The young people were warmly congratulated upon their success.

NO ARRESTS YET

While there have been no arrests yet in the matter of the depredations and attempted robbery committed on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Susan Cossaboon, on Atlantic street, still the authorities have been on a still hunt for a couple of suspects, one with red hair and wearing a cap. It is supposed by some that the two men who entered the house were strangers here and that they followed up the horse races of Wednesday.

"A ROSE O' PLYMOUTH TOWN"

Under Auspices of B. H. S. Athletic Association.

IN THE CRITERION
THEATRE.

Under the Personal Direction of
Miss Service and Miss Neal—
Colonial Play Given Excellent Setting.

Under the direction of Miss Helen T. Service and Miss Helen Neal of the Bridgeton High School faculty, the annual play was presented last evening under the auspices of the Athletic Association, before an enthusiastic audience in the Criterion Theatre. "A Rose o' Plymouth Town" was the play and with the scene laid in 1622-1623 in the historic Plymouth Colony, the costumes being Colonial and the speech of the formal style of that period, the play was distinctly different from any previously offered by the High School.

Cast of Characters.

Following is the cast of characters in the order of their first appearance on the stage:

Barbara, wife of Capt. Standish,
Pauline J. Mires,
Miriam Chillingsley, cousin of the Captain, Freda R. Landenberger,
Resolute Story, aunt of the Captain,
Helen A. Merryfield,
Rose de la Noye, a Huguenot Maid,
Helen M. Maier,
Phillipe de la Noye, brother of Rose,
D. Marsden Ware,
John Margeson, a Plymouth Colonist,
Noel C. Albertson,
Garrett Foster, one of Weston's men,
Russell S. Henderson,
Miles Standish, Captain of Plymouth,
J. Heber Ashmead.

The Synopsis.

Place—Plymouth, in New England.
Time—1622-1623.
Act I—Stolen fruit. An early morning in August.
Act II—A maid's toys. An afternoon in October.
Act III—The red light on the snow. A night in March.
Act IV—The better man. The next afternoon.

The setting for the play was excellent, both the Colonial kitchen of the home of Captain Standish with its big open fireplace, candles and antique furniture and the exterior of the house and the surroundings being suggestive of the primeval surroundings. The costumes were also historically correct and added much to the presentation, in fact were really a part of the play—so to speak.

As "Rose" Miss Maier had the stellar role and she did splendid work, giving the interpretation with a vivacity and charm that was very pleasing. Miss Merryfield gave a capital presentation of a spinster, Miss Mires as the wife of the "doughty" captain made a capable matron, as was becoming her station, and Miss Landenberger ably represented the Puritan maiden.

Russell S. Henderson, as the leading man, suffered somewhat of a handicap on account of a severe cold and had to omit a song but he did well under the circumstances in carrying off the honors as hero.

J. Heber Ashmead made a dignified Captain Standish and D. Marsden Ware called forth laughter with several humorous situations. Noel C. Albertson had anything but a pleasing part but gave it with a fidelity which made the part, as a part, anything but popular.

The success of the young people called forth hearty applause and there were several curtain calls for the performers. Both the participants and those who had the play in charge were warmly congratulated upon their success.

Orchestra Music.

While the guests gathered the High School Orchestra rendered several pleasing selections and then the class sang a chorus led by Miss Lydia P. Kellogg, director of music in the public schools.

A feature at the school this year is the study of current events. In line with this an essay was given by Alma Fisher, this being entitled "Self Supporting America." In this it was argued that America should produce practically all it needs instead of importing from Europe what could be produced here at home.

Malcolm Pitt gave a demonstration in geometry and this was followed by a vocal quartette in German by Elizabeth Bozearth, Gladys Eliason, Damon Cummings and Heber Ashmead.

Representing the English department Fayette Talley gave the great oration of Patrick Henry and gave it so well that the immortal words closing the oration: "Give me liberty or give me death!" brought forth a round of ringing applause. The seniors then sang one of the school's favorite songs: "Love's Old Sweet Song," with orchestra accompaniment.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL DOINGS

Coach Robbins Working Out Twenty-two Candidates For the Eleven.

Coach Chester Robbins, of Bridgeton High School faculty, has twenty-two candidates for the football eleven, the most of them being new. There are no especially heavy players, the most of them being average or light weight.

Heber Ashmead is captain of the eleven and Rodney Gibson is manager. The prospects are good for a winning team if the boys "get down to brass tacks" and work hard.

There will be a game with a local team Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock on West Jersey Academy campus. The boys are practicing every afternoon after school and are making good use of the tackling dummy which was presented by the class of 1915.

The schedule as made out so far includes games with the Ursinus College "scrubs," and High Schools of Millville, Vineland, Salem, Pennsgrove and Atlantic City.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Yesterday afternoon a meeting of the Bridgeton High School Athletic Association was held in the assembly room. The object was the election of officers. Mr. Robbins had named a nominating committee in the morning and the report of this committee was: For President, Jesse Johnson; for vice-president, Franklin Krieg; for secretary, Francis Porch, and for treasurer Miss Oleta Acton. The report of the committee was voted on and the above named nominees were unanimously elected. The new president was escorted to the chair and called upon Heber Ashmead, the football captain, who made some suggestions about the boys coming out for practice. His efforts were rewarded at the practice which followed by a large number coming out to play. Coach Robbins gave some "wise" hints to the girls and the meeting was adjourned.

Heber Ashmead, of Bank street, who was so unfortunate as to break a rib in thte Bridgeton-Vineland football game last Wednesday, is getting along very nicely.

SELECTION ON THE VICTROLA.

Governor Fielder's Proclamation

President of Senior Class—

Turned Over to Benevolent Society.

There were about 350 pupils in the assembly room at Bridgeton High School when the Thanksgiving exercises were held Wednesday afternoon and with "three in a seat built for two" about a hundred of the pupils had to stand.

A brief program was given under the direction of Miss Helen T. Service, the principal, this opening with the singing of a "Harvest Hymn" under the leadership of Miss Flora M. Stieberitz, musical director of the Bridgeton public schools.

Governor Fielder's Thanksgiving Proclamation was read by Heber Ashmead, president of the senior class, and then a chorus of girls led by Miss Stieberitz sang Rudyard Kipling's "Recessional," Miss Service calling attention to the fact that though it was written for the 50th anniversary of Queen Victoria's reign, it is also appropriate for this country just at this time. The number was sung with excellent expression. James H. Fithian played the accompaniment for this and the other vocal numbers.

A "Te Deum," which has been sung upon certain occasions since the sixth century, was played on the Victrola, this being the one arranged by Dudley Buck and the selection was so fine that the young people applauded as spontaneously as for the other numbers on the program, though "Miss Victrola" did not bow her acknowledgment.

The program closed with the singing of "America," the student body standing and using no books.

The pupils brought a goodly amount of foodstuffs and also made a cash offering, both being turned over to the Benevolent Society for distribution.

B. H. S. FOOTBALL ELEVEN FETED

Dinner to Scholastic Champions of Cumberland County.

COACH ROBBINS
GUEST OF HONOR.

Mrs. Viola Ashmead and Mrs.
Laura W. Gibson Entertained at Dinner the Victorious Team
—Coach Robbins Presented
With Loving Cup.

Bridgeton High School football eleven, which holds the scholastic championship for Cumberland county, was entertained at dinner last evening by the mothers of two of the boys, Mrs. Viola Ashmead and Mrs. Laura W. Gibson, Coach Chester Robbins being the guest of honor and several others being present.

The dinner was served at the Ashmead home on Bank street and it goes without saying that the victorious athletes did full justice to the viands.

The menu included grape fruit, raw oysters, roast chicken with dressing, white and sweet potatoes, olives, celery and cranberry sauce, gelatine with whipped cream, fruit and layer cake, nuts, raisins and, last but not least, fudge—for they do say "Rod" makes this with rare skill.

The Toasts.

Then came the speeches. George Whipple, captain of next year's football eleven, said he was uncertain of so strong a line but felt confident he would have a faster back field.

Herbert Johnson, who has played on the team three years, presented his "toast" in an original way and Harold Beebe, manager of the basketball team bespoke for them the same success the football team had.

Coach Robbins said it was a pleasure to coach such a team and also spoke appreciatively of the relations between the home and the school which was exemplified by the event all were enjoying. He also said he had been waiting three years to play just that game with Millville.

Captain Heber Ashmead followed with a genial speech and presented Coach Robbins with a loving cup inscribed "1915 Football Team."

After an appreciative reply Mr. Robbins invited the boys to his home next Tuesday evening.

Some informal speeches in regard to athletics in general were followed by singing and the enjoyable event was at an end.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Chester Robbins, Heber Ashmead, Rodney Gibson, George Conahay, Walter Harrison, Joseph Sharp, Harold Bailey, Jesse Johnson, Olin Ansink, Leo Ehrler, Carl Gray, Herbert Johnson, George Whipple, Harold Beebe, Valdemar Edwards, Jr., William Fithian, Nathaniel Morris, Franklin Kreig, Franklin Peterson, Harry Bell.

HIGH SCHOOL JUNIORS ENTERTAINED SENIORS

Gala Occasion For "St. Patrick's Day in the Evening."

Entertainment, Social Features—Grand March and Dancing—Elaborate Decorations, Spirited Music and Some Surprises.

"St. Patrick's Day in the evening" was a gala occasion for the classes of 1916 and 1917 of Bridgeton High School, the Juniors giving the annual reception to the Seniors and it was a joyous event from beginning to end. The party was held in the Criterion assembly hall and was largely attended. Both classes are large, this year's class numbering about 120. Members of the faculty were also present. There were numerous reminders of St. Patrick's Day and the green was especially appropriate for the Junior colors are green and gold. These with the Senior colors of black and gold blended in the elaborate decorations, together with large American flags tastefully arranged, and the whole gave the hall a festive air.

Receiving Party.

In the receiving line were Bertha Hettlinger, Irene Paulin, George Whipple, Martha Collett, City School Superintendent David C. Porter, Mrs. Porter, Chester Robbins, vice principal of the High School, and Miss Helen T. Service, principal of the High School.

Anna Howell and Hanna Fogg distributed the St. Patrick's Day favors which were in green and gold, and by means of which partners were found for the grand march.

Spirited Music.

Music was furnished throughout the evening by an orchestra of professional musicians led by M. Blackman. The orchestra added much to the gaiety of the occasion with their many spirited selections and furnished excellent music for the dancing. Their music was appreciated and shown by the hearty applause and the numerous encores demanded.

After a time devoted to the exchange of greetings and social conversation Martha Collett, the Junior president, called the assemblage to order and gave a few words of welcome.

A new feature this year was the program furnished each one and these not only added to the enjoyment of the exercises, but were cleverly arranged, being as follows:

1917 Welcomes 1916
"This night I hold an old accustomed feast.

Where'er I have invited many a guest. Such as I love; and you among the store.

One more, most welcome, makes my number more."

Our president now will speak to you; to her words many or be they few; I'm very sure they'll all be true.

Grand March.

"Come, knit hands, and beat the ground

In a light fantastic round."

"Come and trip it as you go On the light fantastic toe."

"Our Sweet Williams" were William Knestle and William Daniels who appeared as "burnt cork artists" and their songs and jokes caused a lot of merriment while the "bits" at the Seniors were received with great applause by them showing they fully appreciated the jokes at their expense.

In "Her Old Sweethearts" the father is turned and Mr. Bridegroom finds out he is not the only one who has had sweethearts in the heyday of youth and the "vision" or dream of Mary's former sweethearts was cleverly presented. Messrs. Krieg and Saltzman sang solos in this number and the chorus was a feature with the pretty dance which closed the number. Ruth Carter furnished the piano accompaniments for this number.

Refreshments of ice cream and fancy cakes were daintily served, the ice cream being in green cups topped with the tiny green flags and punch was also available throughout the evening.

Grand March.

The grand march was led by Martha Collett, president of the Junior class, and Heber Ashmesd, president of the Senior class, and it was a most interesting sight as the throng of young people moved about the large room forming a complete hollow square and by twos and fours through the various figures.

Following this there was dancing and during the popular "Paul Jones" the dancers were showered with confetti and the ribbon streamers in class colors were flung out over the assemblage the scene being both animated and pretty.

Officers of the Classes.

The officers of the Senior class are: President, Heber Ashmesd. Vice president, Elthera Corson. Secretary, Altha Locke. Treasurer, Rodney Gibson.

The officers of the Junior class are: President, Martha Collett, who has the honor of being the first girl ever elected president of a Bridgeton High School class.

Vice president, Anna Howell. Secretary, Hanna Fogg. Treasurer, George Whipple. The chairmen of the several committees were:

Entertainment, Robert Saltzman; Decoration, H. Franklin Krieg; Refreshment, Alice Lange.

The Junior class cooperated in making the reception one of the most successful and enjoyable ever held by Bridgeton High School pupils.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Tonight opens up the championship series between Woodside and Wildwood A. C. for the blue honors of South Jersey. This series is for the best in five games, the winner being entitled to lay claim to such honors. The shore boys have been playing two and sometimes three times a week during the season and have met and defeated a number of the high-class teams seen here. They are an aggressive bunch of hustlers and Woodside will have to play hard to win if all accounts can be relied upon. The Bridgeton boys will go to Wildwood for the second game of the series on next Monday night.

ENDEAVOR CLASS

The Endeavor Class of Central M. E. Sunday-school, taught by Miss Ida T. Ware, held their annual dinner and election of officers at the apartments of Mrs. J. Allen Schiller and Mrs. Charles Townsend, on Walnut street, on Wednesday evening. The dining room was beautifully trimmed in green and white and at 6:30 o'clock a bountiful dinner was served, attractive favors being at each guest's plate.

After the dinner the business meeting was held and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Miss Ella Layton; vice president, Miss Ethel Dicks; secretary, Mrs. J. Allen Schiller; treasurer, Mrs. F. Lester Sutton.

Following the business meeting an enjoyable social time was spent the rest of the evening. Those present were Misses Ida Ware, Mamie Sharp, Martha Johnson, Ethel Dicks, Verona Cummings, Anna Cleveger, Ella Layton, Mrs. May Jenkins, Mrs. Charles Townsend, Mrs. J. Allen Schiller, Mrs. F. Lester Sutton, Mrs. Sara Miller, Mrs. Jennie McKeely, Mrs. Lillian Radcliffe, Mrs. Wallace.

ESTATE OF REV.

SAMUEL BEACH JONES

In Cumberland County Orphans' Court Judge Loder has signed the decree for the final distribution of the estate of Rev. Samuel Beach Jones, who was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church some years ago. The estate is valued at about $12,000.

The application for the order was made by A. A. Gulick, substituted trustee for J. Chester Jones, deceased. There are several heirs and they are widely scattered, one being in New York, another in England and another in Switzerland.

THE BRASS QUARTETTE

At tomorrow evening's service at the First Methodist Protestant Church on North Laurel street, the Houyoux Brass Quartette will assist Pastor Stultz in the service of music. For the quartette Mr. Houyoux has arranged some especially pretty compositions of the sacred songs, which will be rendered at this service.

"Pan On a Summer Day" By Girls' Choral Club.

Boys' Glee Club and Orchestra in Part First—Large and Appreciative Audience Ap- plauded the Musical Efforts of the Young Folks.

One of the best concerts ever given by High School vocalists and instrumentalists was that presented in the Criterion Theatre last evening under the direction of Miss Flora E. Stieberitz, music supervisor of the public schools. The program was bright and entertaining and greatly pleased the large and appreciative audience, but more than that was the demonstration of what music is doing for the pupils of the public schools.

To those who want to see the musical traditions of Bridgeton preserved the concert must have been a source of satisfaction for the young folks give promise of being a real addition to the musical life of Bridgeton.

B. H. S. ARBOR DAY EXERCISES

Senior Class Planted Tree Named
For Shakespeare.

ADDRESS BY

REV. E. A. MILLER, JR.

Program Presented In Water
Works Park—Songs By Student Body—Tree Planted By Class Officers and Committee.

Arbor Day exercises were held by Bridgeton High School this morning when a tree was planted in Water Works Park, near the driveway, west of the coagulation basin, Commissioner Frédrick having given permission for the same.

It was a little after 11 o'clock when the program began and it was concluded just as the April shower came to water the newly planted tree, a maple named for Shakespeare.

Heber Ashmead, president of the class of 1916, presided and "Alma Mater" was sung under the direction of Miss Stieberitz, supervisor of music.

Samuel M. Coombs, 3d, recited "Oh, Little Town of Avon."

The class officers aided in the planting of the tree, the officers being as follows:

President, Heber Ashmead.
Vice president, Elthera Corson.
Secretary, Marjorie Campbell.
Treasurer, Rodney Gibson.

The committee comprised Theodore Miller, Margaret Denelsbeck and Lura Dalbow who also helped.

Rev. E. A. Miller, Jr., pastor of Trinity M. E. Church, made the address.

Mr. Miller spoke of the advantage of having right at one's door the beauties of the Raceway and park. He also spoke of the beauty the pupils should see in the world because of certain studies they have had. God meant people to become acquainted with nature, he said, and life is richer because of it.

He told the pupils they would find their class room work a splendid preparation for a better understanding of the beauty in the world and a keener appreciation of the same.

In illustration of the aspiration for a life hereafter Mr. Miller gave a fanciful conversation with a chick just about to leave the shell which brought out the point he was making.

He advised the pupils to get the most out of High School and the most out of the beautiful surroundings furnished by the park.

The exercises closed with the singing of "I Know a Bank Whereon the Wild Thyme Grows," one of Shakespeare's songs.

FRESHMAN PLAY

To Be Given in the Criterion By Pupils of the Junior High School.

The Freshman play to be given by the pupils of the Ninth grade at the Junior High School takes place in the Criterion Theatre on June 8. Three performances will be given, the first at 2.45 p. m. and two in the evening at 7.30 and 9.00.

Twenty-six girls of the class compose the cast. The play, which is a satire on the rule of kings, is a three-act comedy by Thackeray in which the plot hinges on a magic ring. This ring is given by a prince to a princess whom he expects to marry. She throws it out of a window, where it is picked up by one of the attendants at the palace.

The property of the ring is to bring extreme beauty to its possessor and this comes to the finder. The prince falls in love with her and as a result she is driven from the palace and finds her way home, where the prince later meets and marries her.

An admission of 10 cents will be charged and the proceeds used for the school library.

A liberal patronage of the friends of the school is hoped for as the pupils are working hard for success.

The following orchestras will play at the afternoon and evening performances:

Afternoon Performance.

First violins, Heber Ashmead, Rodney Gibson, John Elmer.

Second violins, Harry White, Chas. Jackson.

Clarinet, Herbert Johnson.

Cornet, Harry Bell, Ivan Peterson.

Flute, Daniel Rempfer.

Piano and leader of orchestra, Frederick W. Spencer.

Evening Performance.

Frank Peterson, leader.

Violins, Rodney Gibson, Frank Peterson, Heber Ashmead.

Clarinet, Herbert Johnson.

Cornet, Edgar Chew.

Flute, Chester Weber.

Trombone, Clarence Peterson.

Piano, Frederick W. Spencer.

SHAKESPEREAN PROGRAM FOR COMMENCEMENT

Those Who Will Take Part in the Exercises Thursday Evening,
June 15.

As already stated in the Evening News there will be a Shakespearean program at the Bridgeton High School commencement exercises on Thursday evening, June 15, in honor of the ter-centenary of Shakespeare, which is being celebrated all over the United States.

Among the musical numbers will be a march from "Midsummer Night's Dream," by J. Heber Ashmead, F. Rodney Gibson and James H. Fithian; "I Know a Bank," by the chorus; a solo, "Who is Sylvia?" by Dorothy Hunt; "What Shall He Have Who Killed the Deer," by boys' double quartette; a dance from "Henry VIII," a violin solo, by Clara M. Rudnick; solo, "Shakespeare's Epitaph" (Beethoven) E. Kitty Dease, and the chorus "Hark! Hark the Lark" (Cymbeline) by the chorus.

Elthera G. Corson gives an essay on "Shakespeare's Response to the Needs of Today" and Samuel M. Coombs, 3d, an oration on "The Fools of Shakespeare."

Ben Jonson's ode to the memory of Shakespeare will be given by Harold H. Beebe and extracts from the writings of the Bard of Avon will include Wolsey on the Vicissitudes of Life, by E. Haines Hilliard; Othello's Speech to the Senate, by Nelson E. Chance; Polonius' Advice to His Son, by Lillian G. Lavin and Sonnett CXVI, "True Love," by Hazel M. Robinson.

The valedictory oration, "Doers and Dreamers" will be given by James H. Fithian while Frank McGalliard, president of the Board of Education, will present the diplomas.

FROM CUMBERLAND COUNTY

Heber Ashmead, of Penn State College, and Samuel Ashmead, of Newark, are here for the holidays.

GOES TO BALTIMORE

Heber Ashmead, of Bank street, leaves today for Baltimore, where he has accepted a position. He is a graduate of Bridgeton High School, 1916, and he later took a course in advanced dairying at Penn State College. Since then he has been employed in the laboratory department of the Arctic Ice and Milk Company and he will do similar work at Baltimore.

The Bridgeton High School football team was given a dinner by Coach Robbins at his home on Lincoln street. Those enjoying the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Eli T. Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Robbins, J. Heber Ashmead, George Whipple, Herbert Johnson, Jesse Johnson, Harold Beebe, Joseph B. Sharp, Walter Harrison, Harold Bailey, George Conahey, F. Class of 1916 Holds Reunion

Grads Celebrated 25th Anniversary With Social Affair at the Cohanzick Country Club

The 25th anniversary of the Class of 1916 of the Bridgeton High School was celebrated Saturday evening at the Cohanzick Country Club, the membership and guest list including 96 persons, who started to assemble in the late afternoon and indulged in reminiscences on the broad club verandas until about 6 o'clock when dinner was served.

Class President J. Heber Ashmead, of Baltimore, presided, and Chester Robbins, former teacher in the High School, and now County Superintendent of Schools, pronounced the invocation in the absence of Rev. Theodore E. Miller. President Ashmead welcomed the group of honor guests, former teachers, in the person of Miss Helen Service, High School principal when the class graduated, Miss Dorothy Carman, of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Chester

BHS '16 Reunion Had 50 Members

which at that time was what is now Bank Street School, spoke on the "foreword" to the program booklet which had been composed by a class member, James H. Fithian. She also referred to Roger Babson's "To My Clients' Children."

Miss Mary Streets, a member of the present Board of Education, pointed out the need of a new high school; Bennett K. Matlack spoke on the value of retiring with a hobby; Mrs. Chester Robbins revealed some of the "fond recollections" she has of 40 years ago at Bridgeton High School.

Chester Robbins, retired N. J. assistant commissioner of education, recalled the football teams of 40 years ago and compared the games and teams with those of the present day. Dr. Robbins declared that "life is just beginning at 60."

Members of the class who spoke were:

Ruth Mattison Weeks read an original poem and made a prayer for the 25 deceased classmates; Rear Admiral Jesse Johnson, retired, told of his hobbies, farming and stamp collecting, and Samuel Coombs talked about his Alma Mater, Cornell University.

Prof. James H. Fithian, a member of the staff of Newark College of Engineering, who is noted as a composer, played recordings of three of his compositions: "When Summer Goes," "The Love, Dear, That Waits" and "Things That Remain the Same."

Mrs. Altha Locke DuBois spoke on behalf of the Reunion Committee and Earle Schrader for those who have married into the class. Carl Wright, a retired railway mail clerk, related some of his on the job experiences while serving 37 years on the run from New York City to Pittsburgh. Albert Shestack spoke in a humorous vein.

Class officers who spoke were: president, J. Heber Ashmead; secretary, Marjorie Campbell Cassidy, and treasurer, F. Rodney Gibson. The vice president, Elthera Corson DeLong, was unable to be present.

Letters had been received from 25 class members unable to attend the reunion and these were placed on the table with class mementoes which included football pictures, a copy of the Class Day program, the Commencement program and copies of the year book which were all reviewed with interest.

Attractive program booklets had been made by F. Rodney Gibson for the reunion. On the golden cover was a Black-eyed Susan, the class flower, and in black paint the numeral 40th. The class colors were black and gold.

The hall was made lovely for the reunion with a profusion of roses. Class members each wore a yellow rose and a name card and those who had "married into the class" a red rose and a name card.

The reunion came to a close at 11 o'clock with the singing of the class song led by Jesse Johnson with James Fithian at the piano. The song had been composed by Elthera Corson DeLong.

In addition to Herbert Johnson, members of the Reunion Committee were: Hazel Tullis Stocum, Laura Dalbow Duffield, Altha Locke DuBois, Dorothy Hunt Wettlaufer, F. Rodney Gibson, Walter T. Harrison, Harold H. Beebe.

Class Members Present

Class members present were: J. Heber Ashmead, Baltimore; F. Rodney Gibson, Bridgeton; Laura Hand Porter, Bridgeton; James H. Fithian, East Orange; Leo Shrier, RD 2, Bridgeton; Dr. Wesley L. Hall, Bridgeton; Eayle C. Shoemaker, RD 5, Bridgeton; Donald Hoagland, Short Hills, N. J.; Alma Brooks Dillen, RD 2, Bridgeton;

JOTS 'N DOTS—An item in the old Dollar Weekly News of December 1915 described the Bridgeton High School football dinner, which was hosted by two mothers of the players. Mrs. Viola Ashmead and Mrs. Laura W. Gibson in the Ashmead home. A dinner was served befitting the Cumberland County champions. The menu: grapefruit, raw oysters, roast chicken with dressing, white and sweet potatoes, olives, celery, cranberry sauce, gelatine with whipped cream, fruit and layer cake, nuts, raisins—yes, and homemade fudge, too. The Bulldogs beat Vineland, 29-6, and Millville, 30-0, that year and Captain Heber Ashmead presented Coach Chester Robbins with a loving cup suitably inscribed . . . For any readers, who have not left this column and headed for the refrigerator, Jots will continue . . . A new electric scoreboard clock adorns the wall in the BHS gym. Hurrah! . . . Quip by Al Ferner, the new BHS basketball coach charged with rebuilding: "If a sophomore walks in the door, we lock it behind him." . . . Andy Etchebarren, up from the Rochester Red Wings, will get a clean shot at the No. 1 catching post for the Orioles. Resigning Oriole president Lee MacPhail said the only question is Etchebarren's batting ability.
