

ANNUAL BANQUET.

CHAUTAUQUANS MAKING MERRY.

Exercises and Supper of the Central Church Circle.—Papers Read and Speeches Made.

The second annual banquet of the Chautauqua Circle of Central Methodist Episcopal Church was held last evening, and the occasion was one of great pleasure to members of the Circle and some invited friends, numbering about half a hundred in all.

The banquet, strictly speaking, formed the second division of the evening's programme. The first part consisted rather of intellectual entertainment, exercises being held in Odd Fellows' Hall, over the post office. Mr. Samuel M. Bassett, the president of the Circle, presided and announced the programme.

A number of papers were read, all showing very careful preparation, though the writers were necessarily limited as regards their length. The subjects and writers were as follows:

"The Growth and Characteristics of Political Economy," Newton Elmer; "Transfer of Goods, Money, Credit, Commerce," S. M. Bassett; "Distribution, Labor, Wages, Profit," Miss Josephine Clark; "What is Socialism and What is Monopoly?" Mrs. Wm. Cheesman; "Public Finance, the Science of Taxation," C. W. Shoemaker; "Consumption, Waste, Prodigality and Avarice," Rev. John Handley; "The Evolution of the Economic Sciences," Mrs. N. Elmer; "Color, Tone and Light," Miss Lucy Williams; "Form, Composition and Object of Art," John C. Sweeten; "Idea, Style, Etchings," Dr. E. T. Davis; "The Bible in Science," Miss Lottie Sheppard; "The Bible in Physiology," Clarence Pettit; "The Bible in Psychology, Philosophy and Law," Miss Novilla Babcock; "The Bible in Civilization," Miss Adelle Bassett; "The Bible in Natural Science," Mrs. John C. Sweeten; "The Bible in Astronomy and Theology," Miss Ida Ware.

There were also two biographical sketches by Misses Sallie and Anna Anderson; readings by Miss Lucie Cox and Miss Lizzie Babcock; some happy remarks by Mrs. Handley and singing by the Circle. One of the songs was "Upides," led by Mr. C. W. Shoemaker; another was a Chautauqua song, composed by Mrs. Handley. Rev. Mr. Handley opened the exercises with prayer.

Flowers were numerous, the ladies wearing large corsage bouquets, while the gentlemen were kindly presented with natty "bortonnieres."

At ten o'clock or a little after Part Second of the evening's programme was entered upon, the scene of action being shifted to S. M. Ogden's dining room. Here a table was spread the entire length of the room and as this was not sufficient to accommodate the throng there was another in the room adjoining in the rear.

For two hours the happy party of Chautauquans and their guests sat at the tables, enjoying themselves hugely. Mr. Ogden had provided a collation which, it was quickly evident, was very tempting. Oysters in several styles and chicken salad formed the basis of the repast, surrounded by customary accompaniments, while ice cream, fancy cakes and other delicacies came in for a share of attention at the close.

A number of "after dinner" speeches were made in response to the requests of the chairman, the guests being called upon by name for that purpose. Responses were made by S. Luther Richmond, of Salem; Miss Morris, of Vineland; Dr. and Mrs. Peck, Miss Mame Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Baxter, James Allen, Miss Vertie Ware, Master Lewis Elmer, Carl Bassett, Miss Viola Bassett, Mrs. Anna Clark, Mrs. Mary Biew, Miss Laura Cox, Jesse Garrison, Wm. Cheesman, Mrs. C. W. Shoemaker, Mrs. James Bassett. President Bassett, also, was not allowed to escape, and in compliance with the general demand, favored the audience with a song or two.

The occasion will long be borne in happy remembrance, by those who were so fortunate as to be present.

HISTORY OF THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL.

A history of the Sunday-school followed, being given by George W. McCowan.

The school was organized immediately after the church, with George Lawrence as superintendent. After him the superintendents were as follows: S. G. Porch, D. B. Thompson, Geo. W. Finlaw, G. Frank Bishop, A. D. Maul, James Peterson, A. D. Maul, A. R. Garrison, S. M. Bassett, G. W. McCowan, Rev. H. Belting, Dr. O. E. Feck, Wm. N. Hewitt, Dr. James Ware, Dr. O. E. Peck, G. W. McCowan, and Dr. O. E. Peck, who holds the position at present and has held it a longer number of years than any other man serving in that capacity.

D. E. Smith has taught in the Sunday school continuously since the school was organized twenty-five years ago as has also Mrs. Ann Cheesman.

Dr. O. E. Peck followed with a most excellent address, from which, owing to a lack of space, we are unable to quote, as also from that of O. W. Shoemaker, who has been superintendent of the infant department for twenty years.

REPORTS FROM SUMMER SCHOOL

At Meeting of Primary Teachers' Union.

ON SATURDAY EVENING.

The Bridgeton Sunday-school Workers Who Were Present
---Brought Back Helpful Thoughts and Plans.

The meeting of the Primary Teachers' Union last Saturday evening was of special interest, reports being given of the School of Methods held at Asbury Park under auspices of the New Jersey Sunday-school Association.

A goodly number were present, every chair in the parlor of the First Baptist Church being occupied. The president, Mrs. Irving P. Emerick, presided, and the lesson for the following day was given in outline by Mrs. Albert Horner.

The reports from the School of Methods were interesting and entertaining, and all the more so because they were given informally in a conversational way. Questions and comments by those who were not at the school were at all times in order.

THE STUDENTS.

Among those from Bridgeton who were students of the school were Mrs. I. P. Emerick, Mrs. George Hubbs, Mrs. Joseph Ashmead, Mrs. D. J. Watkins, Mrs. John Wilson, Miss Alice Service and Miss Emma Westcott.

Attendance upon the school is not a vacation by any means. There are courses scheduled for morning, noon and night with special courses in between. It means hard study but those who are engaged in Sunday-school work find much of help and inspiration at the school.

The programme of reports was entirely informal, each giving some part of a lecture or suggesting a new plan as it occurred to her. The most of the time was given to the seven lectures by Miss Margaret Slattery on "Studies on Boys, Girls and Teachers."

Though a public school teacher her experiences and methods are equally helpful to the Sunday-school teacher and the reports of her lectures showed that she was a keen observer and an original thinker as well as a most conscientious worker. The Bridgeton teachers spoke enthusiastically in her praise.

Mrs. Joseph Ashmead, who has been very ill, was able to sit up yesterday for the first time.

They Had a Jolly Time at the Home of Mrs. Ashmead.

Mrs. Joseph A. Ashmead, the organist at Commerce Street M. E. Church, entertained the members of the choir at her home on Bank street last evening and a jolly good time they had.

All this winter the members of the choir have been meeting around at the homes of the different members on their special invitation and they have had a most pleasant social time. The manner of entertainment has been varied, running from pink teas to wedding anniversaries, and each one distinctive in itself, and the evening spent at the home of Mrs. Ashmead last evening was in every respect a novel one. Their music is a good part of the evening's entertainment, and all the company contribute to that. Mrs. Ashmead played a number of instrumental selections, Miss Ada Waller sang a very pretty solo, and Samuel Bassett won more or less renown for a musical specialty which he played on a small sized accordeon.

The hostess had arranged a game of "Hearts," the principal feature being the pen and ink sketches on each heart, which represented some person present, and they had lots of fun in matching them up. Then there was a marshmallow hunt and they had a high old time in locating the toothsome dainties. Later in the evening a course dinner was served and the company departed for their homes quite late in the evening, after voting unanimously that Mrs. Ashmead was an excellent hostess.

Sabbath-School." Rev. J. L. Ewing, of Bridgeton, gave an address on "The Work Field and the Sunday School." Rev. Frank Anderson then welcomed the delegates. Selection of the place of next meeting resulted in Port Norris being chosen. Some of the delegates to the State Convention at New Brunswick, on Nov. 19, are John O. Spencer, Bridgeton; Mrs. Joseph Ashmead, Vineland; Rev. J. H. Magee, Miss Edith Mitchell, Rev. E. S. Lawrence, M. F. Beckett, Millville, and Jehial Westcott, of Fairton.

EPWORTH LEAGUE SOCIAL

The Epworth League of Commerce Street M. E. Church held a business meeting and social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ashmead, 275 Bank street, last night. Six new members were received and the treasury was reported in good condition. During the social hour Miss Florence Stephenson sang a soprano solo and Misses Norcross and Booblitz played a piano duet. Then came selections on the piano which the people were to guess, also a guessing contest on different terms of music. There were also acting charades, which were very amusing and in which all took part. Refreshments of lemonade, crackers and candy were served and Mr. and Mrs. Ashmead were voted capital entertainers.

GAVE MUSICALE

Pupils of Mrs. Ashmead—At Her House On Bank Street Tuesday Evening.

The pupils of Mrs. Joseph Ashmead gave a musicale Tuesday evening at her home, 275 Bank street. The following program was nicely rendered:

Duet—"A Reverie," Mrs. Ashmead and Miss Edith Gandy.

Solo—"The Roman Charioteers," Miss Alda Garrison.

Duet—"A Fast Waltz."

Violin—Clinton Radcliffe, accompanied by Miss Irene Radcliffe on piano.

Solo—"Triumphant Banner," James Souders.

Solo—"Little Fairy," Miss Margaret Thompson.

Solo—"Evening Song," Adolph Heller.

Solo—"Comin' Thro' the Rye," (Transcript) Miss Nina Cossaboon.

Solo—"Maiden's Prayer," Miss Ruth Dreher.

Solo—"Le Carilona," Miss Jennie Loder.

Solo—"Fairly Bells," Mrs. Joseph Ashmead.

Solo—"Bedermann," W. Jerome Laning.

Solo—"At Sunset," Miss Woodlin.

Duet—"Under the Double Eagle," Mrs. Joseph Ashmead and Miss Alda Garrison.

Solo—"Traumerl," Noel Albertson.

Solo—"Mazourka," Miss Laura Corey.

Solo—"Black Hawk Waltz," Miss Edith Gandy.

Solo—"Dancing Spirits," Miss Irene Radcliffe.

Duet—"American Medley," Misses Ruth Dreher and Helen Woodlin.

Solo—"Queen of the Night," Adolph Heller.

Solo—"In Rank and File," W. Jerome Laning.

Mr. Laning responded to an encore with "Martha Waltz."

Duet—"Meditation."

Violin—Clinton Radcliffe. Piano—Miss Irene Radcliffe.

Solo—"Nocturne," Miss Pearl Vannaman.

Solo—"In the Night Watch," Miss Martha Moncrief.

Solo—"Schottische," Miss Rhodella Miller.

Each number was well rendered and highly appreciated; reflecting great credit upon the ability of their teacher, Mrs. Ashmead.

At the close of the programme a social season followed.

Several articles were displayed which when guessed represented some form of music. A number were successful in this contest. Other games were then enjoyed in which all participated.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, after which a hearty vote of thanks was given their teacher.

ENTERTAINMENT AND SOCIAL

By Juniors of Central M. E. Sunday School.

ADDRESS BY REV.

DR. NEAL.

Spoke Upon "The Flag"—Young Folks Proved Capable Entertainers—Good Work Being Done in the Department.

Under the direction of Mrs. Viola Ashmead a delightful entertainment and social was given in Central M. E. Church last evening by the members of the Junior Department of the Sunday-school.

The young folks entertained their parents and friends in their own room in the chapel which had been tastefully decorated with flags. Misses Clara Wilson and Reba Souder, the decorating committee, were highly complimented for their success.

The program prepared for the occasion was as follows: Piano solo, Mrs. Ashmead; chorus, "Silver Lining," school; Scripture recitation, John 15th, school; violin solo, Gilbert Tatman; essay, "George Washington," Beatrice Johnson; duet, Misses Davis and Hughes; recitation, Virginia Bozarth; vocal solo, Thelma Sharp; piano solo, Evelyn Bond; reading, Hazel Woodruff; piano duet, Misses Martha Wright and Reba Souder; recitation, Helen Carlisle; piano solo, Frederick Spencer; recitation, Altha Locke; address, Superintendent J. O. Spencer; address, "The Flag," Rev. Dr. George H. Neal; remarks, Mrs. Ashmead.

There was a sketch by the teachers and an exhibition of the work done by the pupils during the past few months, after which followed a social and the Juniors served refreshments of ice cream and crackers. The event was highly successful and of much interest, showing the excellent work being done.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL

GRADED UNION

Seventeenth Anniversary Observed Last Saturday Evening.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Report of the Work of the Union
—Forty-Eight Meetings Held
During the Year

The following report of the Graded Union for Elementary Sunday-school Workers has been furnished the News for publication.

At the seventeenth anniversary of the Union, held last Saturday evening, the following officers for the coming year were elected:

President, Miss N. P. Elmer.

First Vice President, Miss Emma Westcott.

Second Vice President, Miss Carrie Bowen.

Third Vice President, Miss Elizabeth Babcock.

Fourth Vice President, Mrs. Joseph Ashmead.

Recording Secretary, Miss Alice Service.

Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Daniel J. Watkins.

Treasurer, Mrs. E. D. Evans.

Member of State Elementary Council, Mrs. Luther Mickel.

Member State Intermediate Council, Miss Anna Ogden.

Again we are glad to report for the Union, progress. During the year forty-eight meetings have been held with an average attendance of twelve.

Our Union represents the Beginners' Primary, Junior and Intermediate departments of eight of the Sunday-schools of our city.

During the past year we have had with the usual program a story telling period which has proved helpful and entertaining to the members. We have read "Girl in Her Teens" and "The Charm of the Impossible," both books recommended for inspiration and help to the teacher and pupil.

During the summer several of the members attended the Summer School of Methods in Asbury Park and came home better prepared and enthused for the work. Our member of the State Elementary Council, Mrs. Luther Mickel, was sent by the Union as a delegate to attend the State Convention, held at Plainfield. Several very pleasant social events have been held during the year.

Miss Hamlin, our State Elementary Superintendent, visited the Union in March and gave to us an illustrated talk showing the work done in other parts of the State.

We very much desire that all the Sunday-schools of our city might be represented in the Union.

May we all say with Miss Margaret Slattery, the teachers' great helper. "May God help us to make this world a safe place for boys and girls to live in."

CONCERT BY CHOIR

At Pearl Street Baptist Church
Tomorrow Evening.

The choir of Pearl Street Baptist Church will give their announced concert in the church tomorrow (Tuesday) evening. An excellent program has been prepared which promises to be very entertaining. It is of varied character, several friends of the choir assisting. The proceeds are to be used for the Sunday evening sacred musicales which are given throughout the winter. Warren B. Tice is the leader of the choir and Mrs. Joseph Ashmead the organist. The program of the concert is as follows:

Part I.

Chorus, "Nightingale and Rose"
Carl Lehnert

Violin Solo, "Les Puritans"
(Opus 118) Chas. Danila
Gilbert Tatman.

Chorus, "A Spring Song,"

ORGANISTS RESIGN

Mrs. Joseph Ashmead and Mrs. Elwood Hickman have resigned their positions as organists of the Pearl Street Baptist and the Second Presbyterian churches, respectively.

AT SECOND CHURCH

Mrs. Joseph Ashmead will become organist at the Second Presbyterian Church, succeeding Mrs. Elwood Hickman, resigned. She is now organist at Pearl Street Baptist Church.

AS ORGANIST

Mrs. Joseph Ashmead will begin her duties as organist at the Second Presbyterian Church on Sunday next, succeeding Mrs. Elwood T. Hickman.

Miss Miriam Glaspey will act as supply at Pearl Street Baptist Church until an organist is secured.

Mrs. Joseph Ashmead and sons,
Heber and Samuel, have gone for a month's stay at Ocean City.

WOMAN'S GUILD

The Woman's Guild of the Second Presbyterian Church held its stated meeting on Thursday afternoon, with a goodly attendance. Mrs. Arthur Whitaker presided over the meeting, which opened with singing "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison.

In the absence of the secretary Miss Mabel Allen was made secretary pro tem, reading the minutes of the previous meeting and also her report as treasurer.

Mrs. Ebenezer Padgett, chairman of the Visiting Committee, stated that 43 calls had been made, including visits to the sick, shut-ins, hospital and the new members. The committee had also forwarded notes of sympathy and were in attendance at several funerals.

Mrs. John Padgett, chairman of the Helping Hand Committee, was unable to be present and her report was read by Miss Elizabeth Chamberlain.

She also read a letter from Mrs. Florence Stephenson, of the Asheville Farm School, thanking the Guild for the rugs which they had forwarded.

Mrs. John Cornwell, chairman of the Social Committee, gave an interesting report. The committee was instructed to purchase six dozen spoons to be used on social occasions.

A committee was appointed, consisting of Mrs. John Cornwell, Mrs. Harry Conner and Miss S. M. Westcott, to meet with the Men's Club to arrange for a social to be held next Wednesday week.

Mrs. Joseph Ashmead rendered as a piano selection "The Last Hope," by Gottschalk, and Miss Helen Chamberlain sang two selections. The closing number was a reading, "The Transfiguration of Miss Philura" (Florence Morse Kingsley), by Miss S. M. Westcott.

* * Samuel and Heber Ashmead spent Sunday with their mother, Mrs. Viola
Ashmead, Bank street.

SURPRISE PARTY

Mrs. Frank Husted was surprised at her home on Broad street last evening when about twenty of the members of her Sunday-school class called to see her. Many games were played and in one of them Mrs. Welsh won the prize, which was a beautiful basket of roses.

Mrs. Husted is soon to leave for Block Island where she and her daughter, Miss Margaret Husted, a teacher in Vine Street School, will spend the summer with Dr. Husted, who is practicing on the Island. The class which so happily surprised her, is the one which she teaches in the Second Presbyterian Sunday-school.

Mrs. Ashmead, vice-president, in a few well chosen words, told of the affection of the members for Mrs. Husted and how they wished her a pleasant trip and a delightful summer. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Those who surprised Mrs. Husted were Mrs. Loren Allen, Mrs. Lorenzo Allen, Mrs. George Cake, Mrs. David Cake, Mrs. Joseph Ashmead, Mrs. Percy W. Owen, Mrs. Harry Hamilton, Mrs. Harry Welsh, Mrs. Clarence C. Rice, Mrs. Harry Conner, Mrs. John Hummel, Mrs. Zeigler, Mrs. Margaret Jones, Mrs. Charles E. Bellows, Mrs. Frank Moore, Mrs. Clarence Rice, Mrs. Mary Whitaker, Miss Louie Rynick, Miss Cole, Miss Gussie Carle, Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Thomas Donaghay, Mrs. Jesse Reeves, Mrs. Frank Howell.

VACATION DAYS

Mrs. Viola Ashmead, organist of the Second Presbyterian Church, left on Monday for a month's vacation which she will spend at the home of her mother, Mrs. S. M. Bassett, in Ocean City. Mrs. Jesse P. Reeves, of Atlantic street, will substitute for her at the organ.

SURPRISE FOR MRS. ASHMEAD

Last evening was the last time that Mrs. Viola Ashmead will meet with the choir of the Second Presbyterian Church as organist on account of her moving to Germantown and the members decided that they would give her a royal surprise.

After the music had been practiced and the choir was about ready to leave the members of the Session and their wives appeared. Jesse Reeves spoke and said how much the efforts of Mrs. Ashmead were appreciated and called upon several members of the choir who also told how she would be missed.

Mrs. Bodder, the choir leader, spoke and then Rev. Mr. Bodder made an address in which he spoke highly of the organist and told how very sorry they were to have her leave them. Concluding his address he presented her with a very handsome cut glass vase. Later refreshments of ice cream, cakes and coffee were served by the wives of the members of the Session and everybody had a most enjoyable time.

Mrs. Ashmead leaves the middle of the month for Germantown where she has purchased a home.

MOVED HOUSEHOLD GOODS
Fazio's two trucks conveyed the household goods of Mrs. Viola Ashmead from her former home on Bank street to her new home in Germantown, Philadelphia, yesterday, Mrs. Ashmead leaving on the noon train. The best wishes of a large circle of friends go with her to her new home.

ROYAL DAUGHTERS

The Royal Daughters of the Second Presbyterian Church were entertained on Tuesday at Germantown, Phila., by Mrs. Viola Ashmead, who was a member of the class until she removed to Germantown a short time ago. The ladies left Bridgeton on the 7.55 train and were joined, upon their arrival, by Miss Ella Brewster, Mrs. Foster C. Moore and Miss Carrie Krauter, all former Bridgetonians. The day was spent in many delightful ways. The big dinner was enjoyed by twenty-two ladies and in the afternoon several snapshots of the party were taken. They were all cordially invited to spend the night with Mrs. Ashmead and those who could do so stayed over night and went to Willow Grove in the evening to hear the concert by Victor Herbert's musicians.

Those in the party were Mrs. John T. Cornwell, Mrs. Margaret Jones, Mrs. Charles Bellows, Mrs. Percy W. Owen, Mrs. Harry Conner, Mrs. Frank Zeigler, Mrs. Frank Most, Mrs. Chas. Vanlier, Mrs. Lorenzo Allen, Mrs. Mary Whitaker, Miss Harriet Rogers,

AMONG THE SICK.

Bridgeton friends have received word that Mrs. Viola Ashmead, who formerly resided on Bank street, is again at her home in Germantown after having been in a hospital in Philadelphia, where she underwent an operation for an infected cheek bone. The operation which was necessarily a delicate one, being so near the nerves leading to the eye and brain, proved successful and Mrs. Ashmead is steadily gaining.

Mrs. Viola Ashmead had been re-elected organist of the First M. E. Church. William L. Evans, was also re-elected choirmaster and Samuel Burdsall sexton.

Mrs. Joseph Ashmead had been chosen organist of the Second Presbyterian Church to succeed Mrs. Elwood T. Hickman.
