

VIOLA ASHMEAD

Mrs. Viola Ashmead, formerly of Bridgeton, died at the home of her son, Heber Ashmead, in Chestnut Hill, last Wednesday. Mrs. Ashmead was organist of the Second Presbyterian Church for several years. She left Bridgeton and went to Germantown, where she lived for a long time, and later devoted her time between Ocean City and Germantown. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the Second Presbyterian Church and will be conducted by Rev. H. E. Bodder, D. D., the pastor. The deceased is survived by two sons, Samuel and Heber Ashmead, of Philadelphia, and a sister, Miss Frances Bassett, Bridgeton. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bassett, who lived in Bridgeton years ago when Mr. Bassett was a glass manufacturer, and was the wife of the late Joseph Ashmead, who was formerly employed in the W. M. Bacon store. Mr. and Mrs. Ashmead resided for years on Bank street, here.
