

since the death of Rev. Dr. A. O. Gilmore, late pastor of Pearl Street Baptist Church, Rev. C. H. Shaw brought up the matter of resolutions and they were authorized.

The program comprised accounts of "vacation days."

Obituaries

MRS. BASSETT'S FUNERAL

Mrs. Samuel M. Bassett, who died Friday in Ocean City, was brought here for burial in Overlook Cemetery Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Bassett formerly lived in Bridgeton and will be remembered by many. She had later lived in Ocean City and for a number of years had been an invalid. She was taken worse only a few days before her death. Monday a week ago she had celebrated her birthday anniversary with a dinner party of her children and grandchildren, which she enjoyed very much.

The funeral service was held in Ocean City and the burial service here was conducted by Rev. H. E. Bodder.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Viola Ashmead, of Philadelphia, and Miss Frances Bassett, of Ocean City, and two sons, Carl Bassett of New York city, and Paul Bassett, of Baltimore. Her husband, the late Samuel Bassett, was formerly a glass manufacturer in Bridgeton.

When Mrs. Bassett lived in Bridgeton she was a member of the W. C. T. U. and later she joined the Ocean City W. C. T. U. and they sent a beautiful floral tribute. She was also affiliated with Central M. E. Church.

The pall-bearers were children and grandchildren: Carl Bassett, Paul Bassett, Heber Ashmead and Samuel Ashmead.

Test Your Knowledge

Can you answer seven of these test questions? Turn to page eight for the answers.

1. What do the initials U. C. V. stand for?
2. Who wrote the play, "Madame X?"
3. Do cadets at West Point pay their way through the institution?
4. In horseracing, what does "scratched" mean?

BIG NEWS

$ 3 50

Style